John B. Wright

The Havocill Gazette, now in the front rank of new papers, stands for the journalistic ability of one man.

John B. Wright repeated his strong protest against the paper from the day he was arrested to the day he was released.

His accurate sense of news and steady judgment of men and events built up the Havocill Gazette to be present in every newspaper of northern Massachusetts.

Editor Wright's long and brilliant work on the Boston Herald, as chief of department of special writers, has all the marks of a man who has had a successful newspaper career.

It will surprise no one that getting out a big newspaper is a hard task, and by striking the right notes and other purifying organs to healthful activity.

Paine's cologne compound has cured many and many cases of dyspepsia, rheumatism, disorders, liver and gallbladder trouble which had puzzled physicians, and the outcome of which seemed hopeless.

Many obstinate dyspeptic persons have gotten rid of their trouble by taking Paine's cologne compound.

It is believed that a half dozen bottles will be examined by Dr. Howe, and it is expected that he will give general directions of nutritions which have thrown themselves in a wasted condition, weakness and loss of strength have rapidly yielded to this remarkable remedy.

The wine face, that attests loss of sleep, soon loses its haggard appearance as the nervous system gets nourished by Paine's cologne compound. As a tonic, it is far superior to any other wine, and the blood gradually and abundantly and the mind abounding in the well-being felt all over the body. Paine's cologne compound should be taken by every person "run down" or "run out."

BREWER LOCALS.

Mr. Richard Mayo, of Boston, was in town Friday business.

Mr. Albert McAvoy, of Portland, Ind., is visiting friends in this city.

Miss Edith Bragg, of Bishop, has been visiting friends in this city returned home Friday.

George A. Deitrich, of South Brewer, and Miss Carrie Ellingswood, of Bangor, were married Thursday at St. John's Catholic church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward McSweney. Miss Anna McMurtry, acted as bride-maid and Andrew Gallus was best man. In the evening reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Deitrich, at South Brewer.

The old saying that "comes goopey" is evidently a true one, according to a Brewer man's experience. Thursday night he dreamed of settling a large wad in his cellar to catch some rats that had been giving him considerable trouble of late. Friday morning, prompted by his dream, he did set the trap and in less than an hour he caught it. It was a young skunk. If this does not prove the old saying, what does?

Mr. David Parks, of Brewer, has a cow that scratches her left ear with her left hind foot and one day recently she tried to beat the record by attempting to scratch the right ear with the same foot, and the result was that she got her leg tangled up. In the horns of a fall on the frozen ground, dislocating her shoulder. Mr. Parks says the animal is in critical condition and it is possible that she will have to be killed.

Thursday forenoon a boy who gave his name as Jimmy McDuff, of Bangor, went through the ice while skating in a little cove on the river shore near Oak Grove spring. The water was very deep and young McDuff went under several times, but came up each time through the hole in the ice and managed finally to keep his head above water by clinging to the broken edges. He was rescued by the aid of a long fence rail which his friends pushed out to him, but until that was nearly perished by the cold water. He had a narrow escape from drowning.

A pleasant event on Thanksgiving evening was the marriage of No. 6 Washington street, of Mr. Lewis Clewley and Miss Alice E. Day, both of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Thalting, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of relatives and friends. Mrs. Ulysses Walker, of Orono, attended the wedding and Mr. Walker was best man. The bride is a well known young lady and for several years has occupied the position of book-keeper for Clewley & McNaughton. Mr. Clewley is an industrious and energetic young man who is highly regarded by those who are acquainted with him. Mr. and Mrs. Clewley were favored with many wedded gifts, both valuable and useful. They have the congratulations of all for a long and prosperous wedded life.

The funeral of the late Ernest H. Whipple, whose death occurred in this city Nov. 24, was held Friday afternoon at his home on Main street. Rev. John Thalting, pastor of the Methodist church, was the officiating clergyman, and the Brewer quartette sang some appropriate selections. The pall bearers were Charles Seaverance, Charles Baker, Amos Peeterson, George Hinman. The arrangements were in charge of E. H. Whipple. Mr. Whipple was a young man of fine health and character, and was much liked by all. He was uncommunicative, however, and although he is quite fat and old, he was willing to talk whenever these men are a good lesson if they make an attempt to molest him.

The Bible class in the Central church vestry will be held this evening at 7:30.

The Queen City defeated the Orientals at bowling last evening at the Grand Central Alley, 1,235 to 1,107.

The steamer Treasury, of the Bangor and Bar Harbor Company's line, has been leased to Capt. Crockett of the Rockland-Surine line, who will run her over his route this winter.

Mr. W. Houghen of the silver Lake Hotel, established in 1893, was in the city yesterday. He reported game plenty in that vicinity. Mrs. Houghen had just returned home from a visit in Halifax.

The board of trustees of the University of Maine held a meeting at Orono on Friday and transacted routine business. There were present President Henry Lord, of Bangor, Hon. William T. Haines, of Waterville, Hon. F. Briggs, of Auburn, Hon. Elliott Wood, of Windham, and Col. C. P. Allen, of Presque Isle.

Hon. J. H. Manley, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cony, of Augusta, and Mr. H. H. Sisson came to Bangor on Friday in the private car of General Manager George E. Evans, of the Maine Central railroad, and returned home in the evening. Mr. Sisson is proprietor of the Davis Coal & Coke Co., of Boston, and is located in Hallowell.

At the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Young, Spring street, Portland, Miss Bassie Young was married to Mr. William H. Ashley Clark, of Newton, Mass. Dean Hills officiated and only the immediate family were present.

The young couple left on the noon train for Bangor, where the green is now located in business and where they will make their home.

The management at the A. M. C. A. were particularly fortunate in procuring the services of the trio of girls who will sing for them Sunday. While they are very young, they are said to have remarkably sweet voices and exceedingly agreeable manner of singing. No one who has this opportunity of hearing them should fail to attend. They will sing in the Boys' Own Meeting at 8:30 and again in the meeting for men at 9 p.m. Good speakers have been procured for both services.

Frank S. Sherman, who has been agent of the Boston & Bangor Steamship Company at Camden since August 1, 1887, has been appointed to the position of agent at Rockland, having succeeded Fred Lofstrom, who had been agent of the company since the retirement of Charles F. Weeks, and who has resigned the position to take effect December 1, 1897.

Arthur J. Moore, who served as purser on the steamer Rockland during the past summer, and since that time has been at the Boston office, will succeed Mr. Sherman as agent at Camden. Mr. Moore is a graduate of the University of Maine.

The game shipment to Bangor on Friday was not large. H. H. Bell, of Boston, came down from Sherman Friday noon and a short while after, H. Langdon, of Boston, had two deer and Geo. C. Brown, of Boston, had two. Mr. K. M. Jordan, day clerk at the White Hotel, returned to Bangor Friday from a hunting trip in the region around Soudan lake. He was one of the other three men being P. W. Carter, John Nevers and Hadley Brown of Fetter. They got all the deer they allowed and also two caribou. Mr. Jordan brought one of the caribou and a deer to this city.

John Hayes, well known in Bangor as the proprietor of the York Street House, National House, Globe Hotel (now the Bangor Exchange), the hotel in Great Works and who lately sold his hotel in Pumford Falls on account of failing health, died at the home of his daughter, Mr. C. M. Hayford, Friday, at 10 o'clock. He had been ill for several months. He leaves a wife and five daughters: Mrs. C. M. Hayford, Mrs. H. L. Scribner and Miss Hattie Hayes, of Bangor, Mrs. Martin Needham, of Great Works, and one daughter a sister of Mercy in Blodderford.

It is reported that Norman Graves, of Bangor, a guide at S. hoodie, is missing, and fears are entertained that he has been drowned. Graves was in Bangor for several weeks up to a month ago when he went to Schoodic to act as a guide. A week ago he left Schoodic station and went up the lake in the canoe. Since that time nothing has been heard from him. His canoe was found floating right side up and in his boat and a life preserver. If he had been drowned his canoe would probably have been bottom side up according to his natural position, as those who believe he is safe. Graves is 65 years of age and comaried. He has relatives in Etina and Foxcroft, and they have been advised that he is dead.

Sig. Carnesia gave a most excellent exhibition of artistic work on the clarinet in Bangor, the rendition being altogether praiseworthy and enjoyable.

Sig. Colomer's bombardino solo was given a most brilliant presentation with fellow tenor and ver execution. Both Sig. Carnesia and Sig. Colomer received well merited encores.

The Gorman showed himself to be a director of rare ability. He lost complete control of his muscles and led the musicians with such spirit and dramatic feeling that the response was spontaneous and most willing.

The programme of the evening included two of his own compositions—highly pleasing works. One of them "March Triumphant" was the last number of the programme and it is not often that a selection in such a position receives an encore, but this one did and Mac. too responded most gracefully and thoughtfully with "The Star Spangled Banner". Nearly every number of both programmes was enthusiastically encored.

The soloists created a very favorable impression. Miss Charlotte Stoberach is only thirteen years of age, but she plays the violin with a grandness and strength of tone and finish which would do credit to one skilled in that instrument much beyond her years. She was born with great promise and was warmly cheered.

She was born with great promise and was warmly cheered.

Sig. Carnesia gave a most excellent exhibition of artistic work on the clarinet in Bangor, the rendition being altogether praiseworthy and enjoyable.

Sig. Colomer's bombardino solo was given a most brilliant presentation with fellow tenor and ver execution. Both Sig. Carnesia and Sig. Colomer received well merited encores.

The Gorman showed himself to be a director of rare ability. He lost complete control of his muscles and led the musicians with such spirit and dramatic feeling that the response was spontaneous and most willing.

The programme of the evening included two of his own compositions—highly pleasing works. One of them "March Triumphant" was the last number of the programme and it is not often that a selection in such a position receives an encore, but this one did and Mac. too responded most graciously and thoughtfully with "The Star Spangled Banner".

Nearly every number of both programmes was enthusiastically encored.

The soloists created a very favorable impression. Miss Charlotte Stoberach is only thirteen years of age, but she plays the violin with a grandness and strength of tone and finish which would do credit to one skilled in that instrument much beyond her years. She was born with great promise and was warmly cheered.
